TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

RIPT[®] Adult Series

The RIPT® (Resistance Impact Performance Technology) Shoulder Pad series from TAG provides a lightweight, professional fit with next-generation tech. Each shoulder pad is uniquely designed to protect against hard impacts without impeding the athlete's movement, enhancing performance and safety at every on-field position.

The RIPT® shoulder pad uses next generation composite materials for the lightest shoulder pads available along with the highest level of protection for Pro to High School football players. For more information, see pages 4-5.

RIPT® TECHNOLOGIES INCLUDE:

TAG EXCLUSIVE

PYRAMID PROTECTION

TAG's exclusive Pyramid Protection System is made up of all of the industries top materials. From Curv, to Tepex, to our exclusive Honeycomb Tech, TAG has everything you need to stay safe on the field.

Learn more about our 5 LEVEL PROTECTION SYSTEM below.

Sleek and lightweight with a modern metallic look, the highly engineered multi-layers of woven fabric in Curv® are designed to absorb most of the kinetic energy to dissipate the impact. Made from polypropylene that combines the versatility of a 100% thermo plastic with the high performance of a fiber reinforced composite. High stiffness and tensile strength with outstanding impact resistance is revolutionizing the way players are protected while pushing performance to the limits. LEVEL 1 CURV is used in the arch, epaulets and shoulder caps to disperse any impact away from the player thru its multi-layers of fabric.

SubArch

LEVEL 2 New cooregrated subarch design to act as a canteliver to push energy back against the impact. Also with its stiffness it helps keep the pad in shape to best fit the player for comfort, mobility, and keeping the pad low profile.

NV815

LEVEL 3 NV815 is used above the sub-arch to help disperse energy and transfer the energy across the sub-arch making the energy travel over a greater distance. LEVEL 4 NV815 is used here again below the subarch in the top of the lining. It is placed in strategic locations across the shoulder to absorb and disperse the remaining energy across the entire shoulder to minimize any remaining energy. LEVEL 5 AIR MANAGEMENT adjustable and removable clavicle pad provide the player with extra comfort and giving the final attack on energy by absorbing and dispersing any remaining energy.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Adult Series

TAG puts player safety first. The new ALT IV shoulder pad uses next-generation NX-TEC® technology (NX210 and NX200) to provide superior protection without limiting mobility. NX-TEC absorbs impact, transferring minimal energy to the wearer.

Meanwhile, the ALT IV's polycarbonate epaulet spreads force throughout the entire shoulder pad. Front and back swivels boost mobility and channel energy away from the body. This combination absorbs the toughest hits without sacrificing a low profile and sleek design.

TAG's unique corrugated sub-arch, featuring exclusive NV815 foam, enhances protection over the shoulder during harder collisions. Inside the sub-arch, adjustable and removable clavicle pads feature moisture-management lining to keep players cool, while a machine-washable Aegis antimicrobial lining protects users from bacterial growth. The ALT IV shoulder pad is real sports technology, ideally made for players that are looking for the best protection in the game.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Youth Series

Younger players need protection that doesn't limit mobility, and the Youth ALT3 Shoulder Pad safeguards key areas without impeding normal movement. Its HD foam material is incredibly lightweight, and a comfortable design spreads out the impact of every hit. To keep your athlete clean and healthy, we've designed this pad to be easily machine washable. Built-in swivel points allow the player to run and pivot naturally.

A low-profile shoulder pad with pro-quality features, the ALT3 features additional padded accessories for different positions, and an antimicrobial mesh provides excellent air circulation to keep players cool while limiting bacteria. The stainless steel hardware keeps the pads rust-free and durable. For more information, see pg. 12.

TAG SPORTS GEAR

Adult Series

Designed for exceptional on-field performance, the Strikeforce® adult shoulder pad is a lightweight, comfortable, and durable option for staying protected in today's hard hitting games. It features 2X EVA and HDOC padding, and corrugated arches which absorb hits evenly and spreads impact throughout the entire pad. TAG'S new corrugated sub-arch provides even more protection over the shoulder areas while still maintaining a low profile pad. The Strikeforce pad now has shorter epaulets and shoulder caps to fit in today's tighter jerseys.

TAG'S proprietary padding system safeguards vulnerable areas while allowing air to move freely and nylon air management system coverings keeps the pad from deforming with regular use. Aegis antimicrobial lining stops bacteria before it starts and an adjustable neck opening ensures that every player gets a custom fit. Every component of the TAG Strikeforce® is optimized to provide the perfect combination of comfort and protection for high-impact players.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Battlegear Series

Designed for performance on the field, the Battlegear® MP and SP adult shoulder pads protect players from the hardest hits with lightweight, economical, and durable construction. Choose the Battlegear® SP for skill positions and the MP for multiple positions. Both feature HDOD arch padding, with EVA to protect shoulders. The Battlegear® line's corrugated arches and epaulets absorb hits evenly, distributing impact throughout the entire pad. To ensure shoulder safety, a steel spring cantilever system and air-management clavicle pads disperse energy evenly at key impact-points.

Battlegear® pads fit comfortably in today's tighter jerseys, thanks to shorter epaulets and shoulder caps. A belt-and-buckle hook-up system — along with an adjustable neck opening — ensures every player a safe, comfortable fit. Swiveling front and back arch connectors combine the best of mobility and protection to match the intensity of today's game, while an Aegis antimicrobial lining wins the battle against bacteria.

At TAG, we understand that price is important, but we refuse to compromise on protection. That is why we developed a shoulder pad that provides superior protection at an affordable price. Putting player safety first — that is our game.

T
045

Battlegear[®] Series

The TSP045 Battle Gear® II Youth Shoulder Pad features two independent layers of padding for superior comfort and protection during high-impact play. An EPE foam surrounds the outer shell, while HDOC foam stays comfortable and breathable without impeding mobility. Raised corrugated arches and steel springs help to cut down on weight while improving protection in key areas, and a removable Velcro lining allows for easy cleaning.

The TSP048 features the same excellent protection and mobility as the TSP045 with an added belt and buckle system. Both models are lighter than earlier Battlegear® systems, include an adjustable neck opening for custom fit, and are optimized for younger players. For more information, see pg. 30.

Features:

2. Hardware

- Nickle Plated Hardware

4. Multiple Hookup Systems

- Pad is Available in Two Models:
TSP045 - 1" Elastic Strap Hookup
TSP048 - 1" Belt & Buckle Hookup

1. Clavicle Build Up System

- Sewn in Two-Layer Softcell Clavicle Buildup System with Metal Arch Spring
- Corrugated Arches For Better Protection

3. Better Protection

- HDOC Foam with Double Density Arch Padding Construction

5. Easy to Clean Lining

- Antimicrobial Treated Nylon Lining
- Machine Washable Velcro Removable Lining for Easy Cleaning
