TAG SPORTS GEAR

Adult Series

TAG puts player safety first. The new ALT4 shoulder pad uses next-generation NX-TEC® technology (NX210 and NX200) to provide superior protection without limiting mobility. NX-TEC absorbs impact, transferring minimal energy to the wearer.

Meanwhile, the ALT4's epaulet spreads force throughout the entire shoulder pad. Front and back swivels boost mobility and channel energy away from the body. This combination absorbs the toughest hits without sacrificing a low profile and sleek design.

TAG's unique corrugated sub-arch, featuring exclusive NV815 foam, enhances protection over the shoulder during harder collisions. Inside the sub-arch, adjustable and removable clavicle pads feature moisture-management lining to keep players cool, while a machine-washable Aegis antimicrobial lining protects users from bacterial growth. The ALT4 shoulder pad is real sports technology, ideally made for players that are looking for the best protection in the game.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Youth Series

Younger players need protection that doesn't limit mobility, and the Youth ALT3 Shoulder Pad safeguards key areas without impeding normal movement. Its HD foam material is incredibly lightweight, and a comfortable design spreads out the impact of every hit. To keep your athlete clean and healthy, we've designed this pad to be easily machine washable. Built-in swivel points allow the player to run and pivot naturally.

A low-profile shoulder pad with pro-quality features, the ALT3 features additional padded accessories for different positions, and an antimicrobial mesh provides excellent air circulation to keep players cool while limiting bacteria. The stainless steel hardware keeps the pads rust-free and durable.

TAG SPORTS GEAR

Adult Series

Designed for exceptional on-field performance, the Strikeforce® adult shoulder pad is a lightweight, comfortable, and durable option for staying protected in today's hard hitting games. It features 2X EVA and HDQC padding, and corrugated arches which absorb hits evenly and spreads impact throughout the entire pad. TAG'S new corrugated sub-arch provides even more protection over the shoulder areas while still maintaining a low profile pad. The Strikeforce pad now has shorter epaulets and shoulder caps to fit in today's tighter jerseys.

TAG'S proprietary padding system safeguards vulnerable areas while allowing air to move freely and nylon air management system coverings keeps the pad from deforming with regular use. Aegis antimicrobial lining stops bacteria before it starts and an adjustable neck opening ensures that every player gets a custom fit. Every component of the TAG Strikeforce® is optimized to provide the perfect combination of comfort and protection for high-impact players.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Battlegear Series

Designed for performance on the field, the Battlegear[®] MP and SP adult shoulder pads protect players from the hardest hits with lightweight, economical, and durable construction. Choose the Battlegear[®] SP for skill positions and the MP for multiple positions. Both feature HDQC arch padding, with EVA to protect shoulders. The Battlegear[®] line's corrugated arches and epaulets absorb hits evenly, distributing impact throughout the entire pad. To ensure shoulder safety, a steel spring cantilever system and air-management clavicle pads disperse energy evenly at key impact-points.

Battlegear[®] pads fit comfortably in today's tighter jerseys, thanks to shorter epaulets and shoulder caps. A belt-and-buckle hook-up system — along with an adjustable neck opening — ensures every player a safe, comfortable fit. Swiveling front and back arch connectors combine the best of mobility and protection to match the intensity of today's game, while an Aegis antimicrobial lining wins the battle against bacteria.

At TAG, we understand that price is important, but we refuse to compromise on protection. That is why we developed a shoulder pad that provides superior protection at an affordable price. Putting player safety first — that is our game.

TAG[®] SPORTS GEAR

Battlegear[®] Series

The TSP045 Battle Gear[®] II Youth Shoulder Pad features two independent layers of padding for superior comfort and protection during high-impact play. An EPE foam surrounds the outer shell, while HDCC foam stays comfortable and breathable without impeding mobility. Raised corrugated arches and steel springs help to cut down on weight while improving protection in key areas, and a removable Velcro lining allows for easy cleaning.

The TSP048 features the same excellent protection and mobility as the TSP045 with an added belt and buckle system. Both models are lighter than earlier Battlegear[®] systems, include an adjustable neck opening for custom fit, and are optimized for younger players.
